

From: Glenn Everhart
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/23/02 8:32am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I think the Microsoft settlement proposed leaves far too many holes for them to continue monopolistic behavior and should be replaced by something far more drastic.

A settlement needs to be forward looking and address their use of a desktop monopoly to get into other markets. TV, home computing and the like, games, and so on should be things they have to hit the same barriers as everyone else. Likewise they should not be permitted to give shortcuts to their Internet services to the detriment of all other such services just by making windows default to MSN.

Allowing that sort of thing is ridiculous.
Glenn C. Everhart, PhD.